YELLOW FEVER.

The Number of Cases in the South is Increasing.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Reports to the Marine Hospital today, show yellow fever in the South is steadily increasing. Officials state the increase in the fever is likely to be continued until cold weather sets in. This is thought to be at least three weeks off. The dispatches received here report the total number of cases in Mississippi up to date to be 470, with 36 deaths. Yellow fever is reported to have occurred at Lake Charles, La., in a dispatch from Dr. Edmund Shuman of New Orleans. At Franklin, La., there are 28 new cases and no deaths.

Following are the Mississippi reports of new cases for today: Jackson, 2 white cases, 1 negro; Canton, 4; Crystal Springs, 4; Madison, 6 white, 10 negroes; Harrison, 14, making 55 in all now under treatment; Ridge land, 1; Warwood, 6 new cases, 1 death; Oxford, 1 case.
Camp Hutton, the new detention point at Avondale near New Orleans, with a capacity of about one thousand patients, was opened today.

The Heligoland Returns.
NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—A dispatch to the Herald from Trondheim says the German steam yacht Heligoland, with the members of Herr Theodore Lerner's expedition, has returned from Spitzbergen, having reached 81 deg. N. They had not seen Andre, but had collected much zoological material.

THE GATE OPEN

President McKinley Sees the Great West.

Omaha Receives on Behalf of the Western Empire.

She Gives the Country's Ruler a Splendid Welcome.

HIS TOUR WAS AN OVATION

And the Exposition City Caps the Fitting Climax.

Party Met by the Largest Crowd Ever on Her Streets.

Buildings Gorgeously Decorated and Illuminated.

A PARADE OF FORTY FLOATS.

Magnificent Spectacle in Which the Marvels of Electricity Play a Part—Description of the Journey and the Talks En Route.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
OMAHA, Oct. 11.—President McKinley and the other members of the Presidential party from Washington were greeted on their arrival in Omaha by the largest crowd that has ever lined the streets of the city. For several hours before the train reached the depot the sidewalks along the streets over which the President was to pass were densely packed by citizens of Omaha and visitors from all parts of the country.
The Presidential Reception Committee, composed of prominent Omaha citizens and their wives, was at the depot. Each member of the committee, with his wife, was given one particular guest to assign to the proper place in the line of carriages which was in waiting. They performed the tasks allotted to them without a hitch. As soon as all were seated, the procession started, under escort of the Equestrian Club of Omaha, to the City Hall.

Along the whole line, the crowds on each side of the street and in every window kept up a continuous ovation. The buildings were gorgeously decorated with red, white and blue, and with the Ak-Sar-Ben colors, red, yellow and green, and numerous pictures of the President appeared in the windows of stores and offices. The streets were also strung with lines of incandescent lights over each causeway and arches of colored incandescent lights at every street-crossing, making the whole line of march as light as day.
At the City Hall, the party alighted and the visitors were assigned to seats on a temporary platform, from which they reviewed a magnificent parade of forty floats. The floats were the same which had taken part during the last week in the Ak-Sar-Ben parade of Tuesday and the electric parade of Thursday, and the two gorgeous parades combined made a magnificent spectacle.

CONSTANT OVATION.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
CLINTON (Ia.), Oct. 11.—The President's journey from Chicago to the Mississippi River today was a constant ovation. Since he was elected President, Mr. McKinley has never until now traveled west of Chicago, and the immense crowds at the stations along the Northwestern Road showed the appreciation of the people for the opportunity of greeting the Chief Magistrate. The weather was absolutely perfect, the sun shining bright and clear after last night's heavy rain. Even at the smallest stations good-sized crowds were waiting, whose only hope of reward was the possibility of a passing glance at the President as the train swept by. The first stop was made at Des Moines at 9:05, and here the President spoke a few words in response to the crowd's enthusiastic welcome.

"It was no part of the programme," said Mr. McKinley, "that I should be viewed by the people at this hour of the morning, but I appreciate your generous welcome and join with you in congratulations to our country and to our army and navy for the successful issues of the last four months. I am sure there has never been a time in our history when patriotism has been more marked or more universal than it is today, and the same high purpose which characterized the conduct of the people in war will influence and control them in the settlement of peace."
At Dixon and Sterling, where brief stops were made, the crowds were so dense that hundreds could not even gain a glimpse of the President. He made no attempt to talk at these towns, but occupied the time with shaking hands. A large number of those to shake the President's hand were school children. The largest crowd of the trip gathered at Clinton. Here Senator Allison, Gov. Shaw and party boarded the train. After the cheering had subsided, President McKinley said:

"My fellow citizens: I have no fitting words to express my appreciation of this splendid welcome. We have gone from industrial depression to industrial activity. We have gone from labor-seeking employment to employment-seeking labor. (Applause.) We have abundant, an unquestionable currency, the world over and we have an unsurpassed national credit, better than it has ever been before in our history."

"We have, too, a good national conscience and we have the courage of destiny. We have much to be grateful for in the stirring events of the past six months. The army and navy of the United States have won not only our praise, but the admiration of the world. (Cheers.)"

"Our achievements on land and sea are without parallel in the world's history. During all those trying months the people of the United States have stood together as one man. North and South have been united as they have never been united. People who think alike in a country like ours must act together. That is what we have been doing recently, and we want to continue to act together until the fruits of our war shall be embodied in solemn and permanent settlements. We want no differences at home until we have settled our differences abroad; when that is all done, we can have our little differences among ourselves."

"I am glad to be in the State of Iowa; I am glad to meet and be greeted by your representatives in Congress, and by your honored Governor, and I need not tell you how proud I am to meet my old friend, your distinguished Senator."
At Des Moines the President was greeted by another gathering. He said: "I cannot be indifferent to the very generous greeting that has been given me since I have entered your great State. At every point your people have made me feel entirely at home. Indeed, there is no part of the glorious country where every citizen may not feel at home, and I regret to leave you at this very interesting moment."

At this point the train pulled out, but before three large bunches of flowers had been thrown at the President.
The stop at Mount Vernon, the seat of Cornell University, was so brief that the President had only time to say: "I am very glad to meet you all."
Tumultuous cheering was indication enough that the crowd was equally glad. As Mr. McKinley entered his car he remarked to Senator Allison: "That is the best speech I have yet made."

STRONG UTTERANCES.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
BOONE (Ia.), Oct. 11.—The President left the train for the first time at Cedar Rapids. A platform, elaborately decorated, stood near the track, and from it President McKinley delivered an address which brought cheers from 10,000 lusty throats. He spoke briefly of the country's returning prosperity, of the North and South reunited, and in referring to the war, said: "We accepted war for humanity. We can accept no terms of peace which shall not be in the interest of humanity. That hostilities have ceased upon terms so satisfactory to the people of the United States is cause for congratulation, and calls forth sentiments of pious gratitude to divine Providence for those favors which He has manifested to us and of the appreciation of the army and navy for their brilliant victories. While our victories in battle have added new honors to American valor, the real honor is the substantial gain to humanity."

At Boone, the President said: "This is no time for divided councils; this is the solemn hour demanding the highest wisdom and the best statesmanship of every section of our glorious country. The only real danger for this people is that now and then they become indifferent. Indifferent citizenship is always unfortunate. In the United States we have grown to have convictions on the public law and public administration. If I would have you remember anything I have said in these desultory remarks, it would be to remember that at this critical hour in the nation's history, we must not be divided. The triumphs of the war are yours to be written in the annals of peace." (Applause.)
The President made short talks during the evening at D-nison, Grand Junction, Logan, Missouri Valley and Council Bluffs.

Points of the News in Today's Times.

Utah and Pacific Road is Coming.

Work of Track-laying Began at Milford Yesterday.

President McCune Says it Will not Be Stopped.

Southern Terminus not Decided On. Three Routes to the Coast—Short Line Interests Cut a Big Figure in the Considerations.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SALT LAKE (Utah), Oct. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Track-laying on the Utah and Pacific road southwest from Milford was begun today, and President McCune is authority for the statement that it will never be stopped until the road gets to the Pacific. All the highest officials of the Union Pacific and Oregon Short Line are in the city today, and President McCune was closeted with them after the Union Pacific meeting. He was also a guest at the banquet given at the Alta Club tonight by E. H. Harriman, the New York millionaire, who is chairman of the Executive Committee of the Union Pacific.

The directory of both the larger systems consists of representatives of the same financial interests, and these are the men who are silently backing the McCune road for the purpose of ultimately having three routes to the Pacific, the Vanderbilt lines and the Union Pacific as the main arteries, with three great offshoots via the Oregon Short Line to Portland, the Central Pacific to San Francisco and the Utah and Pacific to some point in Southern California.

The southern terminus is not decided on but as the same men who control the Short Line also control absolutely and own the Pacific Coast Railway and many interests at Port Harford, it is said here that their own road in California will be utilized. The Pacific Coast Railway is part of the Oregon Improvement Company, which is almost a part of the O. R. & N. Co., and Oregon Short Line.

UNION PACIFIC ELECTION.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
SALT LAKE (Utah), Oct. 11.—The first annual meeting of the Union Pacific Railroad was held today here, 106,687 shares of stock being represented by holders in person, and 598,743 by proxies. The original Board of Directors of the Union Pacific Railroad was unanimously reelected.

DIRT WILL FLY.

MILLER SAYS THE NICARAGUA CANAL WILL BE DUG.

Has No Doubt That Congress Will Take Hold of the Matter—The End of the Next Session Will See Work Begun.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
DENVER, Oct. 11.—Hon. Warner Miller has arrived in Denver to attend the annual meeting of the Nicaragua Canal Company, of which he is president.
"The canal is going to be built," he said in an interview today. "That question was practically settled by the Spanish war and the long journey of the Oregon."

"Do you think Congress will take hold of the matter promptly?" was asked.
"There is no doubt about it, in my mind," said Mr. Miller. "Friends of the measure claim that a large majority of both houses favor the construction of the canal, and I think the time has now come when action can no longer be postponed. Dirt will fly at the end of the next session of Congress. That is my prophecy, and I think I ought to know what I am talking about."

FOWLER-VAN SHELLE.

Red Cross Nurse to Marry a Belgian Nobleman.

[A P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]
CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Miss Annie M. Fowler, who served as a Red Cross nurse in Cuba, is to be married today to Albert Van Shelle, a Belgian nobleman, delegate-general of the Red Cross Society on the staff of His Majesty, Leopold II. Miss Fowler is the daughter of Dr. E. S. Fowler of Springfield, and comes of a family of the first settlers of that city.
Soon after the war with Spain began, Miss Fowler offered her services as nurse to Miss Barton, and was accepted. In July she left for Cuba. She arrived on the battlefield at Santiago after hostilities had ceased, and did good service in aiding the wounded and sick. It was there she first became acquainted with Gen. Van Shelle. The marriage will take place at St. Chrysostom's Episcopal Church, this city. Charles Henrotin, Belgian Consul, will act as best man.

Canned-goods Makers.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Representatives of the United States Canned-Goods Manufacturers' Association met in this city today. E. R. Breckinridge, president of the association, presided. Delegates from twenty western cities were present at the meeting. President Breckinridge read a paper in which the progress of the canned-goods trade was reviewed. The report met with general satisfaction, as it was shown that the business was on the increase.

Horrible Murder Near San Jose. Capt. Nevills Held for Trial—Fought Dynamite Wakes Up. A Big Hotel Burned.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Chronicle has a story that the local four hundred were all torn up today over the crushing exposure in the Call of the Cheyenne record of Charles A. Williams, who was to have married tomorrow Miss Genevieve Goad, a local heiress.

Williams came here a year ago from South Africa, and was introduced into the local four hundred by Wiltsee, also from South Africa. He was very presentable, and soon fascinated Miss Goad. His friends claim he told her the full story of his troubles, but it is evident that he did not, for the dark details. At any rate, her friends persuaded her to postpone the marriage till he had been fully vindicated, which those who know his record say cannot be done. The following dispatch from Denver gives the facts about Williams, alias White:

"DENVER, Oct. 11.—The most sensational divorce proceedings ever instituted in Larimer county, Wyo., was brought when Mrs. Emma White commenced suit against her husband for absolute divorce with alimony. This was on September 15, 1892. Mrs. White was quite a handsome woman, with an estate valued at $500,000, and a magnificent residence in Cheyenne. Mrs. White first met White at Hot Springs, Ark., and a match was soon struck up between the pair, which on White's side was apparently mercenary from the start. The day of the wedding was fixed, and White made his first visit to Cheyenne. It is now known that as a preliminary to marriage, White insisted that $25,000 be placed to his credit in the bank. This was done before the ceremony was performed.

"The couple were married in August, 1891. Within a few months White succeeded in securing a mortgage upon everything his wife owned. He left for New York, taking with him Mrs. White's son George, whom he was to place in school.

"According to the story, as now told, White began, soon after his marriage, a systematic course of abuse. He applied to his wife the vilest language, not only to her face, but in talking about her to her friends. He accused her of criminal intercourse with various men about Cheyenne, when he knew there was not a shadow of excuse for the charges.

THAT HAWAIIAN BANK.

Fletcher Heath interviewed on the subject at San Francisco.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fletcher Heath has arrived here as one of the financial emissaries to the Hawaiian Islands. Concerning his mission, he said, when seen tonight at the Palace Hotel: "California, eastern and island capital combined will positively organize the First National Bank of Hawaii very soon at Honolulu with a capital of $1,000,000. Three of us, as representatives of principals who do not wish their names to be known yet, were to have left on the steamer this afternoon for Honolulu, but were detained because certain arrangements could not be perfected quick enough. The organization papers are now on their way here.

"Who will be directors of this bank must be determined later by a vote of the shareholders, but they will probably be island residents. They will elect officers. The bank will be managed exclusively from Honolulu and San Francisco. I shall not be a director. It will be a good, big, sound institution. When it is established there will be no United States sub-treasury will be required in the islands, as it will be a clearing-house. Just when we shall depart for Honolulu is not yet determined."

BOWELS BLOWN OUT.

Horrible Murder of Frank Brown by

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN JOSE, Oct. 11.—Frank Brown was murdered by his neighbor, Augustine Brutinier, about 6:30 o'clock this morning. The men lived on adjoining ranches on the Tully road, about four miles southeast of the city. About the hour named a message was telephoned to the Sheriff's office that a man had been shot in his barn lot and was dead. Officers hurried to the scene, and met a horrible sight. Brown was lying about thirty feet away from his barn, with the lower ribs and the covering of the abdomen torn away. His liver and other viscera were hanging out, and several pieces of rib bones were torn completely away from the body and lay on the ground by the man. He was horribly bloody. With all this, the man was not dead, and was perfectly conscious.

In answer to the officers' questions he said he knew who shot him, but could not recall his name. From neighbors the officers learned that Brutinier had been seen on the premises with a gun. The discharge was heard, and Brown was seen to fall. At the same time Brutinier fled across the fields in an easterly direction. Pursuit was given, and the man overhauled about one and a half miles east. He was in a field, seemingly making for a muzzle-loading gun, but surrendered when ordered to do so. One charge from the gun had been fired. He was taken before Brown, and the dying man was asked:

"Is this the man who shot you?"

"Yes, yes; that's him; yes, that's him," he replied.

Brutinier said nothing, and was brought to the city and jailed, while Brown was placed in a vehicle and a start made for the County Hospital, but he died before he reached there.

Brown and Brutinier owned adjoining ranches. Brown has a wife and several children, but none were at home last night. In fact, it seems that his family has resided in San Jose for some time, while he lived alone on the ranch. None of his family reached him before he died.

MASONIC ORDER GROWING.

Covina Has a New Lodge and the Philippines Want One.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—The Grand Lodge of Masons of the State of California was opened tonight by Grand Master Thomas Flint, Jr. The attendance was very large, over four hundred delegates being present.

The report of Grand Master Flint shows a total membership of 19,542, an increase during the year of 734. A dispensation for a lodge in the Philippines has been asked for, but the Grand Master does not think it should be granted until the islands come under the jurisdiction of the United States. The suggestion was made by the Grand Master that the Hawaiian lodges be included within the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of California.

GOOD TEMPLARS MEET.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—The thirty-third annual convention of the Grand Lodge of California, Independent Order of Good Templars, opened today in the Howard Methodist Episcopal Church. Grand Chief Templar Theodore D. Kanouse presided and 185 delegates were present.

William Crowhurst was appointed Grand Marshal; Edward Fintelmeyer, Grand Messenger; A. T. Rezende, Grand Sentinel; Mrs. Schacht, Grand Deputy Marshal. Various reports were then read.

EX-MAYOR GRANT'S JUMP.

He and Others Pre-empt Claims on Wright Creek.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SKAGWAY, Oct. 6 (via Seattle, Oct. 11).—A good deal of alarm has been felt here as a result of the news that ex-Mayor Grant of Vancouver, and a number of other Canadians, have jumped claims on Wright Creek, the richest creek yet discovered in the Alaskan Lake district.

It appears that as soon as Mr. Grant appeared on the scene, the recorder discovered that the original locators had not complied with the law relative to the amount of work done for the season, and so the new arrivals rushed up to Surprise Lake and jumped Wright Creek. It is said the commissioner of the district has said the original locators are entitled to the claims, and that when the matter comes up for adjustment in the spring he will oust Grant and his party.

BENNETT FROZEN OVER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE (Wash.), Oct. 11.—Lake Bennett froze over about a week ago. A few days later the ice went out, and the steamers continued their run. The river is getting very low, and will freeze for the winter. But one more steamer is expected at the lakes from Dawson. There will soon be a cessation of outward travel until the river is sufficiently frozen to enable people to come out over the ice. Many will come out then. The steamer James Donville had a hard time in getting up the river, the lake from Dawson. She was fast on sand bars several days, and had her machinery broken down at White Horse Rapids. Here she was laid up for the winter.

of $30,000. These, as well as the Hotel, were erected and fostered by the land company. The coincidence of their destruction on such close-allyed later caused much comment, and it is believed to be the work of an incendiary. The land company has many friends and few enemies, and the work is believed to be that of an insane person. During the fire tonight, W. E. Fenmore of hook-and-ladder company No. 5 was thrown from a ladder and two men fell upon him. He was internally injured, and may not live.

FAST MERCHANT STEAMERS

To Connect California With France via South American Ports.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—The Chronicle says San Francisco is to have direct steamship communication with South American markets on both the east and west coast. The Chargeurs Reunis, one of the largest of the largest of the French steamship companies, is to establish a line of fast steamers between the port, Mazatlan, Acapulco, Guaymas, Callao, Peru, Valparaiso, Chile, Montevideo, Uruguay, Santos, Brazil, Liverpool, Havre, and possibly a Belgian port. The first steamer will start on the next day, and thereafter a monthly service is to be maintained between San Francisco and Liverpool, with stoppages at the above-mentioned ports.

A. Frasse, representing the company, who is in this city, says he has received much interest from merchants, and declares that the line will be put in operation as soon as possible. He adds: "For service in the Pacific, the company has directed the construction three new steamers, which will have a length of 372 feet, and a carrying capacity of 6000 tons each."

MRS. BOTKIN STAYS.

Her Attorneys Secure a Writ of Habeas Corpus.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—The warrant for the extradition of Mrs. Cordelia Botkin for the murder of Mrs. John P. Dunning and her sister, Mrs. Joshua P. Deane, at Dover, Del., was placed in the hands of the police today. To prevent the immediate extradition of the accused, her attorneys went before Judge Hawley of the United States District Court to apply for a writ of habeas corpus. Judge Hawley refused to entertain the plea, saying that too much time was being wasted in frivolous tactics, and suggested that the United States Court of Appeals be petitioned, thus avoiding long delays.

The Botkin attorneys then appealed to Judge Cook, who issued the desired papers. The case is now before Detective McVey of Delaware. This was done in order to prevent Chief of Police Lees turning the prisoner over to the eastern police, who would get out of the State with his charge. The new writ was made returnable Monday morning next, and the Botkins will probably sit with Judge Hawley.

Mrs. Botkin was ordered into the custody of Chief of Police Lees. The attorneys for Mrs. Botkin announced that they will not take the case to the Supreme Court until every other avenue has been tried.

"BULLSHAE"

Highest Mountain in North America

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

SEATTLE (Wash.), Oct. 11.—The G. H. Eldredge survey geological party, which has just returned from the Cook's Inlet country, is declared to have discovered the highest mountain in North America. The peak, which towers far above Mount St. Elias, is situated in Alaska, to the right of the Sushitna River. The government topographer, it is said, took triangulation for the elevation, ascertaining by scientific calculation the exact height of the peak. The mountain is more than 20,000 feet. The mountain was named "Bullshae," a word spoken in exclamation by the Indian guide of the party upon beholding the wonderful peak. The members of the survey party are reported to have expressed the opinion that an ascent of Bullshae would be almost impossible, so precipitous are its sides.

MEYERS FORGOT.

But the Dynamite Attended Strictly to Business.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SANTA CRUZ, Oct. 11.—William Meyers placed a few sticks of dynamite in the stove at his home, near Ben Lomond, a few weeks ago, and soon forgot the incident. Today he lighted a fire in the stove, and was blown through the floor by the explosion which followed, dying in a few minutes. Meyers was 53 years of age, and well known here.

SCHOOL BOARD SCANDAL.

Five Thousand Dollars Said to Have Been Coolly Pocketed.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—Warrants were sworn out today by Grand Juror Samuel C. Irving against School Director Thomas A. Burns, Edward D. Swift, lumber contractor to the school department; John J. O'Brien, inspector of buildings for the Board of Education, and George S. Graham, assistant inspector of buildings.

Found Near Oakland Mole.

The Charge Is That He Was Found Near

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

OAKLAND, Oct. 11.—The body of an unknown man was found near the Oakland Mole by Joseph Joyce this morning. There was a bullet wound in the dead man's right temple. The coroner is of the opinion that it is a case of suicide. The deceased is about 45 years old, and weighs 250 pounds.

DON'T WORRY.

This is the Greatest Underwear Sale Ever Held in Los Angeles

Judged by the eager, anxious and satisfied crowds that thronged these stores yesterday.

It's the widest distribution of rare bargains we have ever made in our history.

Every garment is just what you need, heavy weight—ribbed—fleece lined—for fall and winter wear only.

If enough people read this announcement, the stock laid aside for special selling will disappear before evening, for no one who reads of such wonderful bargain doings can fail to call, and all who call cannot resist the temptation of buying.

But remember this and don't be among those who'll be sorry they were not here soon enough.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

Day Dispatches Condensed.

In the St. Joseph (Mo.) Criminal Court yesterday William Hathaway and James Hathaway pleaded guilty to the charge of robbing a building passenger train the night of August 11 last. Sentence has not yet been passed. The three alleged accomplices of the Hathaways, who were arrested at a Peeking cablegram says the loan contract for the extension of the New-Chicago Railroad signed by the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank calls for $2,500,000 sterling at 5 per cent. guaranteed on the security of the existing line at Peking, Shanghai and other places.

Countess Adeline Schimmelman of Copenhagen, Denmark, accompanied by her two sons and seven interpreters, arrived at Cleveland, O., yesterday on the private yacht Duen. The Countess is doing missionary work among sailors, especially those of her own nationality, and expects to encircle the earth in her travels.

A Fort Worth (Tex.) dispatch says George Moore, another of the Santa Fe train robbers, has been found guilty of murder and given a life sentence in the State prison. The jury was out one week.

Night Dispatches Condensed.

William P. Forsythe, a member of the firm of Forsythe, Hyde and Co., of New York, in pig iron, which firm failed in 1893, has filed a petition for voluntary bankruptcy. The liabilities are $200,000, and the available assets. When an assignment was made in the County Court it was found that the stock had been pledged as collateral security, and only the secured creditors benefited, and yesterday's petition was filed in the United States District Court.

At home, Iowa, Fred Reinhardt, a seventeen-year-old boy, ran in front of one of the cannons while a salute was being fired as the Presidential train came in last evening, and was killed, his head being blown off.

JESSE JAMES, JR.

Is Thought to Be Up to His Pa's Old Tricks.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.), Oct. 11.—Jesse James, Jr., son of the notorious bandit, Jesse James, Missouri's pioneer train robber, was taken from his cigar stand in the County Courthouse by the police this evening, and is being secreted by the police authorities. The other men, whose names are not known, and whom the police absolutely refuse to talk about, were arrested soon after.

Jesse James, Jr., has been under surveillance of the police since the last of the many train robberies in the outskirts of Kansas City. This was the robbery of a Missouri Pacific express train near Leoda, September 24.

William Lowe, a Santa Fe switchman, has been in custody since five days after the holdup. Lowe is a native of the "Crackerneck" district, just east of this city, which was made notorious as the hiding place of the first James gang. When close pressed, the James boys, the Youngers, the Ryans and others of the old gang always found shelter in the "Crackerneck."

John Kennedy, the locomotive engineer, who has been twice arrested in connection with the more recent train robbery case in Jackson county, is also a native of the "Crackerneck." Kennedy and Lowe and young Jesse James are friends, and though young Jesse James has always been a good reputation, he has lately been under surveillance with the others. The police maintain that train-robbing will not be suppressed in Jackson county until there has been a purification of the "Crackerneck" district, and all their work since the last robbery seems to have been in this direction.

Dougherty Wandered Away.

SAN JOSE, Oct. 11.—About ten days ago T. S. Dougherty, an old resident and esteemed citizen of Gilroy, wandered away from home, and not a trace has been had of him since. The whole town of Gilroy is exercised over his disappearance, and Sheriff Lyndon went from here today to join the hunt. It is feared he is dead in the hills. Dougherty was formerly marshal of Gilroy.

Tried to Climb Alcatraz.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—The ferry steamer San Rafael grounded on a shoal on Alcatraz Island during a heavy fog early this morning. It was the same time struck the piles supporting the military prison. The steamer Tiburon soon pulled the vessel off. No one was hurt, and the San Rafael continued its regular trips.

THE REPUBLICAN CITY TICKET AND PLATFORM.

Seldom have the Republicans of the city of Los Angeles had occasion to congratulate themselves more earnestly upon the work of a city convention than they have at the present time, upon the work of the municipal convention which concluded its sessions yesterday.

The convention was characterized throughout by harmony, good feeling, and cooperation for the good of the Republican cause and for the best interests of this municipality.

There was a notable absence of the bickering, the petty jealousies and the working at cross-purposes, which too often characterize the sessions of municipal conventions, whether of our party or another.

THE TIMES takes this occasion to congratulate the delegates to the Republican City Convention on the thorough and admirable manner in which they have discharged the duties imposed upon them by the people.

The exceptions to the general rule of harmony and good-will were too few and too trifling to be dwelt upon.

The nomination of Fred Eaton for Mayor, by acclamation, was a splendid tribute to the personal worth of that gentleman, to the high esteem in which he is held in this community and to the confidence reposed in him by the people.

While his nomination was a foregone conclusion before the assembling of the convention, the spontaneous manner in which it was tendered to him was well calculated to inspire the nominee with feelings of the keenest appreciation and gratitude and to imbue him with an earnest determination to justify the confidence reposed in him by giving to the people and to his party the best that he has to give, both in the campaign before us and in the service of the city, if he shall be elected to the high and responsible position of Mayor.

That he will give us of his best is as certain as that daylight succeeds darkness.

The Republicans of Los Angeles have made no mistake in nominating Mr. Eaton for Mayor. He is distinctly the right man for the place and will easily rise to all the requirements of the position.

Mr. Eaton is a strong candidate in every sense of the word. He is strong in the popular esteem and confidence, strong in native ability, which will guide him safely and surely in the discharge of his official duties, strong in personal integrity, which is unquestioned by friend or foe, strong in executive ability and firmness of character and strong in his earnestness of purpose as a man and a citizen.

Mr. Eaton has grown up among this people. He began his career by digging ditches in the streets and has advanced steadily to his present position by reason of honest merit and native ability. He is distinctly a man of the people, which fact explains his great popularity and the confidence universally reposed in him.

If Mr. Eaton be elected Mayor of Los Angeles—and the prospects are that he will be elected by a heavy majority—he will be one of the best Mayors the city has ever had, and will justify in the fullest degree the expectations of those whose votes place him in office.

The remainder of the ticket is a fitting accompaniment to the candidate for Mayor. It is as needless to write in words of commendation about John Drain, the candidate for Superintendent of Streets, as it would be to gild refined gold or paint the lily.

His administration of the office has been clean, able, and conscientious, and the re-nomination came to him naturally because of his efficient service during the present term and because of his excellent qualifications for the office.

Ben E. Ward for Assessor, and W. A. Hartwell for Treasurer, are excellent nominations, which add strength to the ticket.

Mr. Hartwell is now serving his second term as Treasurer, and so well has he performed the work of that department that the people will surely see to it that he receives a re-election.

Walter T. Haas, the nominee for City Attorney, is a bright and clean-handed young lawyer, who will do his duty in a manner creditable to himself and to the city.

William White, who now holds a position as deputy sheriff, is a popular man, and may be depended upon to perform his work in a straightforward manner as Tax Collector. E. A. Carson for Auditor, Frank H. Olmstead for City Engineer, and Lafayette Martindale for City Clerk, are all good nominations and will add to the popularity of the ticket.

Herman Silver and C. H. Toll, candidates for Councilmen from the Fourth and the Fifth Wards, respectively, received the compliment of renomination by acclamation from their ward conventions. The remaining nominees for Councilmen, as will be seen by reference to the full ticket, printed elsewhere, are men of standing in the community, in whose hands the affairs of the city will be safe.

The personnel of the School Board ticket presents so favorable a contrast to that of the preceding board that comparison is odious. The election of these gentlemen would furnish a guarantee that there would be no repetition of the disgraceful scandals which are too well remembered in connection with the Webb regime.

Let us have a clean-handed Board of Education. We can accomplish this much-desired result by the election of these unexceptionable gentlemen.

The platform adopted by the convention is one which every loyal Republican in Los Angeles can conscientiously endorse. It is somewhat lengthy because of its explicit declarations on the water question, but this is excusable in view of the great and vital importance of that question.

The position taken is one of absolute and uncompromising advocacy of municipal ownership. It is proposed not only that the city shall own and absolutely control the system for the distribution of water to its inhabitants, but that the municipal water system shall be the best that money and engineering skill can procure; that the supply of water shall be pure and abundant for all domestic and municipal purposes; that there shall be no renewal of the lease of the water system, and that no corporation, firm or person whatsoever shall be granted any franchise for the sale or distribution of water in and for the city of Los Angeles.

The platform pledges the Republican candidates, if elected, "to proceed at once to provide an adequate, high-level, gravity supply of water from the Los Angeles River; to construct the necessary conduits and reservoirs for the conveyance and storage of same; to lay the necessary mains and supply pipes of adequate capacity for the distribution of a liberal supply of water where no service now exists, and to lay mains of sufficient size throughout the present distributing system of the city, where undersized mains are now made to perform a very unsatisfactory service."

The candidates are further pledged to labor unceasingly for municipal ownership until it is an accomplished fact.

The position of the Republican platform on this important issue—the most important issue, by far, now before the people of this municipality—is one which every honest and public-spirited citizen can heartily commend.

The election of the Republican City ticket will mean the handling of the water question in a straightforward, energetic, businesslike manner, favorable to the city's best interests.

As much can hardly be said of the Democratic candidates, whoever they may be; for a party whose City Central Committee is on record as endorsing the Kessler proposition for leasing the waterworks for a period of fifty years to a private corporation, cannot be depended upon to handle this vitally important question in a manner to conserve and protect the city's interests to the fullest extent, no matter how plausible may be the ante-election promises that are made.

The declarations of the Republican platform in favor of a better High School building, to be erected in a more central part of the city; in favor of maintaining the irrigation system upon a self-sustaining basis; in favor of the adoption of a new charter; opposing the employment by the city of contractors against whom there is an unpaid labor bill, and against the participation of office-holders in political conventions—these declarations are in line with sound common sense and true municipal economy.

They will receive the approval of a majority of the citizens of Los Angeles.

The ticket and the platform are winners. Let every true Republican take off his coat, literally speaking, and begin work at once for the success of this clean ticket and this superb platform.

INEXCUSABLE BLUNDERING.

The Board of Supervisors, which does not care what the law is, abetted by the county's law officer, who doesn't know what the law is, and aided by a boxmaker, who makes bids on a printing contract that he cannot fulfill, has so muddled the business of getting the supplemental register printed that it is not likely to be printed at all, and the result may be that no election can be held legally in this county.

Section 1115 of the Political Code provides that ten copies of the register shall be printed for each precinct, and fifty additional copies for each 1000 voters. To supply the precincts, 1640 copies are required, and strict compliance with the law would make it necessary to print over three thousand copies. The Supervisors advertised proposals for 1500 copies and for 750 copies, and called attention of bidders to a contract on file. The specifications and contract were conflicting and neither was in accordance with the law.

The board then awarded a contract for only 750 copies to a bidder who is not a printer and cannot do the work, ignoring the only bid that was anywhere near a legal and sufficient bid. The board's legal adviser made the preposterous statement that only nineteen copies were required, and nobody has been able to guess how he arrived at that number. One of the members of the board declared, after the law had been read, that he didn't care what the law required; the board would print such number as it pleased.

A suit has been brought to compel the board to obey the law, and that means delay. Another suit to compel the clerk to keep the register open until fifteen days before election is pending, and should that succeed, the boxmaker would have but seven days in which to turn out, without plan or press, a job that no printing house in the city could handle in that time.

How the Supervisors are to get out of this tangle and make necessary provision for a legal election is a puzzle for lawyers and courts to struggle with. To the citizen who sees his right of suffrage imperiled by official blundering and stupidity, no excuse for getting matters into such a mess is discernible. Should the courts be unable to rescue the register from the hands of these blundering incompetents in time to make due provision for holding the election, the voters of Los Angeles county will be likely to make the Supervisors realize the extent and weight of their responsibility.

HERMAN SILVER.

The Republicans of the Fourth Ward are to be congratulated upon having renominated Herman Silver for the office of Councilman, for it is a nomination eminently fit to be made. Mr. Silver's services in the City Council have been marked by sterling integrity, loyalty, and faithfulness to the best interests of the municipality at all times since he has been a member of that body. Mr. Silver refused absolutely to seek the office or to take any hand in the selection of delegates to the convention, but took the high position that if the people of his ward desired his services for a second term, it was for them to say so; and it speaks well for the sagacity and good judgment of the Republicans in that quarter of the city that his nomination was made by acclamation. Many of the best men in Los Angeles were anxious that Mr. Silver should stand for the office of Mayor, and from the amount of support promised him he would undoubtedly have proven a formidable candidate for the nomination. The fact that this good Republican and good citizen is to be seated in the Council for another term—for his reelection is already assured—gives promise that the business of that body will be looked after not only by a competent business man, but by a man of high character. We congratulate the party on this nomination.

PETROLEUM FUEL FOR STEAMSHIPS.

Among other things, the war with Spain brought into prominence the importance of the question of fuel in naval warfare. It is a fact that the fighting capacity of a war vessel is mainly controlled by the amount of fuel which it can carry, or, in other words, the distance which it can steam without re-coaling.

It has been frequently suggested that crude petroleum might be substituted for coal on warships, as it has been on many railroad lines. Quite a number of merchant vessels have been thus equipped, and experiments are now being made with some war vessels. A test was recently made in England on a turret ship, which was built not only for the carrying of liquid fuel but also for the consumption of it. The test, which was watched with much interest by prominent naval officers, is said to have been quite successful.

The general introduction of oil as fuel on steamships would open a greatly enlarged market for California petroleum.

THE OIL FERGUSON FUND.

THE TIMES makes kindly acknowledgment of the following additions to the above fund:

Drs. F. L. H. and J. R. H. .... $ 5

Clarence Ferguson ..... 5

Previously reported ..... 300

Total ..... $310

The gallant boys of the glorious Seventh Regiment will be home again in a few days, and they promise an exhibition drill at the pavilion in aid of the Ferguson family, which, it is to be hoped, will raise the fund to such proportions as will insure the purchase of a home for Mrs. Ferguson and her children without further delay. Due announcement will be made in these columns of the forthcoming military entertainment. Meanwhile contributions to the fund will be acceptable.

THE PASSING OF THE RED MAN.

Those were plaintive as well as truthful remarks made on the Indian question, with special reference to the Minnesota outbreak, by Geronimo, the old Apache warrior, who gave such a lot of trouble to the army in Arizona, and was only captured by the aid of much diplomacy. Geronimo, although still alive, is now a good Indian, under charge of the United States government.

After saying that the Minnesota Indians had made a great mistake in trying to fight against the inevitable, in the shape of the white man, and telling how he, for many years, had entertained the same foolish ideas as to the relative powers of the two races, and, finally, after visiting some of our cities, had come to the sorrowful conviction that the race of the Indian was run, Geronimo went on to say:

"The sun rises and shines for a while, and then it goes down, sinking out of sight, and it is lost. So it will be with the Indians. When I was a boy my father told me that the Indians were as many as the leaves on the trees, and that off in the North they had many horses and furs. I never saw them, but I know that they were there, then, they have gone now, and the white man has taken all they had. It will be only a few years more until the Indians will be heard of no more, except in the books that the white man has written. They are not the people that the Great Father loves, for if they were He would protect them. They have tried to please Him, but He does not know how. 'Schools are good things for Indians; but it takes many years to change the nature of the Indian. If an Indian boy goes to school and learns to be like a white boy, he comes back to the agency and there is nothing for him to do but put on a blanket and be like an Indian again. This is where the government is to blame. When it takes our children away and educates them, it should give them something to do, not turn them loose to run wild upon the agency. Until that time comes, educating the Indian is throwing money away. What can an educated Indian do out in the sage brush and cactus? There will be no more big Indian wars. The Indians' fighting days are over, and there is nothing left for him to do but be a beggar and live on charity around the agency.'"

There is much truth in this, as all who have visited Indian reservations know. It is of little use for the government to go to much trouble and expense in educating young Indians if they are left to their own devices as soon as they get out of school.

There are not so many of the red men left in this country, that the United States cannot afford to be generous with them, and make up, in some degree, for the injustice that has too frequently been done them in the past.

TWO EXCELLENT NOMINATIONS.

The selection of Charles H. Toll and Fred L. Baker to succeed themselves in the City Council, in so far as a nomination can promise such success, is especially gratifying to the better element of the city of Los Angeles. Both these gentlemen have been true to every trust and their election ought, in recognition of faithful and loyal services, to be made unanimous. Both Mr. Toll and Mr. Baker are men of affairs and in no sense politicians or office-seekers. They have conducted the multitudinous affairs of the city, as members of the Council, with the same care and painstaking effort that good business men put forth in their private business, and both of them have stood like a stone wall against the assaults of such blatherers as El Hutch and against the threats and pleas of the great army of people who have axes to grind and hope to have the municipality furnish the grindstone, the water and do the turning. Good public servants are not so plenty in these days that we can afford to overlook the few who demonstrate that they are capable and honest and thus have earned the applause and encomiums of the people they represent. Charles H. Toll and Fred L. Baker deserve to be returned to their seats in the Council chamber of Los Angeles by overwhelming majorities, and we believe the voters of their respective wards have such appreciation of loyal service as will insure that result.

A Tennessee debating society has decided that "Jewhillikens" is a profane word, and the Denver Post is authority for the statement that it has been adopted down there for campaign purposes. But in California, the word beginning with a big, big D, is found sufficient for all requirements, and it is being used more this fall, from all appearances, than ever before.

If the Republican State campaign were in as good shape as is the Los Angeles city and county campaign, there would be no doubt whatever about the result. With a splendid county ticket and an equally strong city ticket, the Republican cause in this county for the State ticket has materially improved within the past few weeks. Local Republicans are making no mistakes.

Still another evidence of the approach of better times on the Pacific Coast is the announcement that a large French steamship company is preparing to establish a line of fast steamers from San Francisco to Liverpool and Havre, stopping at the principal ports on both coasts of South America.

The County Clerk's office will remain open late tonight to accommodate those voters who, having moved from one precinct to another, have been tardy about having the fact noted on the supplemental register. But the only safe way to do is to "go early and avoid the rush."

TO DRILL AT THE PARK.

NOVEL PLAN FOR THE RECEPTION OF THE SEVENTH.

Instead of Marching to the Armory the Troops Will Be Taken to Agricultural Park for a Benefit Drill.

The Seventh Regiment will reach Los Angeles Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock, on a special train of two or three sections, the last of which will probably reach the city not later than 10 o'clock. Instead of leaving the train at River Station or the Arcade Depot and marching to the Armory, a plan for receiving the regiment has been arranged which will give the people of this and neighboring cities their first opportunity to witness the evolutions of the entire regiment.

In order to afford the friends of the regiment this opportunity, and at the same time materially increase the regimental fund, the Agricultural Park Association has proposed that the regiment go direct to the park after reaching the city, and there give a regimental drill. It is not expected that the men will march to the park, but the plan is to have the sections of their train taken to the park over the Southern Pacific line.

The programme for the day has not been completed as to detail, but unless there is something to prevent it the movement of the troops will be about as follows: Arrive at River Station at, say, 10 o'clock, where lunch will be served by the Red Cross Society. At about 11:30 o'clock the trains will start for the park, arriving there in a few minutes. The men will then leave the train and march into the field, where they will stack arms and disperse to greet their relatives and friends. At about 1:30 o'clock "assembly" will be sounded, and the troops will fall in for a short regimental drill in the open field inside the track. After the drill they will be conveyed up town, either on the street cars or over the Southern Pacific.

In consideration of the appearance of the regiment at the park, the association offers to give to the regimental fund one-half of the gate receipts for the day. An admission fee of one cent, one charged at the race, will be charged, and with the attendance of the thousands who would willingly pay such a fee to see the regiment, there is certain that a large amount will be netted the regiment.

Capt. Baker communicated with the commanding officer of the regiment yesterday, and asked his opinion of the proposition. The colonel said he was more than willing that such a drill be given, but before he answered finally he desired to consult some of the officers of the command. He will communicate the result of that conference to the officers of the association today.

Such a drill would be certain to bring to Los Angeles hundreds of people from all the cities in this part of the State, which are represented in the regiment. A reduced rate of one and one-third fare has been secured for the races, and this would be made to apply to the military event.

The complete programme for the day will be announced when the opinion of the officers of the regiment as to the matter is learned.

Academy of Sciences.

The Academy of Sciences met last evening at No. 330 South Broadway. Three new members, E. J. C. Wood, R. H. Horton and Prof. John Dickinson, were received.

The matter of the recent forest fire was brought up for discussion and the board of directors was instructed to consider the possibility of preventing the recurrence of such fires.

The secretary stated that the report of the dissection of the skeleton of a man ready in about a week, and that it would contain a most valuable list of the diseases of Southern California, compiled by Dr. H. E. Hesse of Soldiers' Home.

The lecturer of the evening was Dr. Warren. His subject was psychology, and its advent into the ranks of the sciences.

A section for the study of psychology was formed by seventeen members of the academy.

How It Works.

[Butte (Mont.) Miner.] The Los Angeles Times, a Republican paper, of which Brig-Gen. Harrison Gray Otis, is the principal owner, has virtually "bought" the Republican nominee for governor of California, Henry T. Gage.

It does not attack Mr. Gage's standing as a man and a citizen. His claims are confined to the selection of him as made of men to conduct his campaign. The Times charges openly that Mr. Gage's campaign managers are really creatures of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company. It does not intimate that Mr. Gage is personally under the domination of the corporation, but it intimates that when the relations of lieutenants who are, a certain degree of odium, if not suspicion, must attach to him.

It is becoming apparent from this California incident and other things that there is a spirit of independence abroad among the newspapers in party affairs, and a growing disposition to revolt against boss rule and corruption rule. When newspapers will go to the extent of refusing support to a candidate for such an important office as Governor because his associations with boss rule and corruption rule, it would seem time for political conventions to call a halt. That it does not have that effect is because the stiff-necked, stubbornness which decrees "none but those who can be controlled" shall apply for office will not recognize the signs of the times. It insists upon having its own way until it is brought to a realization of its error by the popular uprising which buries in defeat the men the boss or corporation has sought to force upon the people.

The injustice worked by this system of political wrong-doing is primarily to the people. For the boss who decrees the nominations may be depended upon to use his utmost power to have his will registered at the ballot box. The injustice in the second place is to the party which stands sponsor for the nominee forced upon it by boss or corporation. For the defeat which is bound to come sooner or later is not alone that of the boss, it is that of the party as well. Not but that such a defeat under such circumstances is better for the future health of the party. It is, but the party which otherwise must have been supreme must suffer a temporary eclipse through no fault of the better men belonging to it—in fact, in most cases it is through their active participation in the result of their passive resistance to the wrong that was perpetrated in the convention.

It may be asked why this better element of a party does not lend its efforts toward bringing about a better representation in party gatherings. The answer is easy.

One of the greatest political bosses of the country was asked once what it was that enabled him to retain his grip upon party affairs in the face of the fact that three-fourths the membership of his party were opposed to him. "The other fourth—they are organized. The three-fourths are not. They grow, but they don't bite."

Some years later he found he was mistaken. [Madras Tribune.] In its issue of last Monday the San Francisco Call refers to Brig-Gen. Otis as an ungrateful traitor to be scorned by honest Republicans. The cause of the vituperation is that Otis's paper, the Los Angeles Times, has been making its opposition to Farkner and Osborn known in unmistakable terms. The two men were appointed by Gage on the Republican Executive Committee, and The Times opposes them on the grounds that they are untiring servants of the octopus, inferring that their well-known sympathy for the railroad will jeopardize Gage's chances of election, if it does not defeat him. The Call's change of front in relation to the Republican nominee for Governor is another of that journal's political somersaults, for which the Republican press is noted. As late as August 8, the Call said, among other things: "How can Mr. Gage be elected Governor of California with a Republican majority of 160,000 south of Tehachas? He is stronger in that region than McKinley?"

If the Republicans who meet in Sacramento on the 23rd inst. do not nominate a man for Governor who can cut down Maguire's vote in San Francisco, their candidate, and perhaps their ticket, will be defeated.

BRYAN'S PLEDGE.

Contributes Full-weight Dollars to the Free-Silver Cause.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—W. H. Harvey, general manager of the Ways and Means Committee, Chicago, is in receipt of the following letter from Col. W. J. Bryan, dated at Jacksonville:

"My Dear Sir: I inclose a pledge for monthly contributions to the cause of bimetalism until October, 1900, together with the installment for this month. I most cordially endorse the plan adopted by the committee, and am confident it will result in a collection of a large fund for the circulation of bimetallic literature. Since our fight is in the interest of the plain people—to use Lincoln's phrase, 'to give every man a chance to live'—we must appeal to them for the means of carrying on the contest."

"The financiers can contribute large sums to support the gold standard, because monopoly of money gives them a great pecuniary profit. Surely you can appeal with confidence to the millions who suffer from a rising dollar and falling prices. Having brought freedom to Cuba, the American people can renew the struggle for the financial independence of the United States. Yours truly, [Signed] 'WILLIAM J. BRYAN.'"

TRADE WITH CHINA.

Our Exports More Valuable Than All Europe's and Russia's.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Special reports from United States Consul Johnson at Amoy, and Consul Fowler at Chee Foo, show an enormous increase in the foreign trade of China and point out the great value of that part of it originating in the United States. Last year's trade exceeded that of 1896 by $2,000,000 trade. The value of the United States represented 15 per cent. of the total, being more than double the value of Germany and second only to Great Britain.

As Consul Fowler puts it: "The value of our exports to China is more than that of all continental Europe, and the Russians, European and Asiatic." His figures show last year the excess amounted to $20,281 tons. But these figures, he says, are entirely too small, for, owing to the Chinese method of keeping treasure in silver, large proportions of the goods coming from the United States are entered as coming from other countries.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—For Southern California: Fair Wednesday; fresh west wind.

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

Even the keen-sighted former chief of detectives of this city seems to have been unable to detect enough gold in the Klondike region to induce him to stay there.

Judging from the number of Democrats in Pasadena who are rising in their places and changing their votes, it is about time for somebody to move to make it unanimous.

The Phoenix Herald is advertising Arizona very effectively by publishing lengthy extracts from the government report for 1897. It is not every Territory or State which can bring such strong testimonial of character from such an authoritative source.

The existence in the city of an unusual number of cases of typhoid fever, as reported by Health Officer Powers, should serve as an emphatic warning against carelessness and indifference to sanitary precautions. This disease, more than any other, perhaps, is the direct result of bad drainage and the use of bad water.

The Alameda Encinal, in making editorial comment on the sale of the street railway in this city, remarks incidentally, that "goodness knows the system needed improvement, as it could not well have been worse," which shows that the Encinal man writes through his sombrero, and knows nothing about Los Angeles street railways. As a matter of fact, this city has one of the best street-car systems in the United States.

A large majority of the citizens of Los Angeles are anxious to see the city freed from the presence of "in-horn" gamblers, poker sharps and blacklegs generally. They will therefore be gratified to see Chief Glass taking prompt and energetic action to enforce the new anti-gambling ordinance. The ordinance may not be a perfect one, for its purpose, but it is now in force, and the people want to know at once whether it is good for anything or not.

Hon. Billie Carlson, formerly Mayor of San Diego, promoter of railroads, publisher of a dozen or less newspapers, so-called, in Southern California, attorney-at-law, etc., and more recently appointed paymaster of the Southern Pacific Company, is now located in Washington, D. C., as publisher of the Washington Tribune, a weekly administration newspaper. He still holds his position of paymaster on the Southern Pacific, but it is inferred that Uncle Collins thinks Billie's infirmity is worth more than his service on the pay car.

RIVAL BAKERS DISAGREE.

As a Result One of Them is Laid Up for Repairs.

George Stamp, who resides at No. 124 Hawkins street with his family, was taken to the Receiving Hospital yesterday afternoon looking as if some one had been practicing on his face with a battering ram. The bridge of his nose was broken, his under lip was out and he had a great gash under his chin; his face was covered with blood and he was also bleeding from one ear. The upper plate of his false teeth was also shattered.

The man who is responsible for Stamp's condition is Oliver Tuton, who drives a wagon for the Domestic Bakery of East Los Angeles. He also drives a bakery wagon. He buys bread from other bakers and then serves it to his own customers. There has been a grudge of long standing between the two men, and yesterday they met at the grocery store on the corner of Sotoello and New Main streets. They resumed argument of their past difficulties and soon the air was full of bakery-wagon drivers, choice cuss words and things. Stamp had called Tuton a liar and Tuton replied by calling Stamp something which doesn't look well in print. Then the fur began to fly, and the next thing Stamp knew he was at the Receiving Hospital, with Dr. Hagan sewing him up. He said he didn't know how he got hurt, and refused to swear out a warrant for Tuton's arrest.

After having his injuries dressed he insisted on returning home, against the advice of Dr. Hagan, as the bleeding at the ear may indicate internal injuries. Stamp was insistent, however, so he was allowed to go home in a hack.

The Chafing Dish. The first of a series of cooking lectures was given in the Y.W.C.A. rooms on West Second street yesterday morning. Mrs. Grace A. Dutton had charge of the lesson. She was assisted by several pupils, eager to learn the art of preparing lobster a la Newberg, creamed chicken and egg brouilli. The lesson was interspersed with talks on health and the science of cooking generally.

The elementary classes in reading, arithmetic and grammar met in the association rooms last night, and the first Spanish lesson was given. The Spanish class has a membership of twenty-six to date, and applications are received daily.

GAMBLERS FEEL UNEASY

THE NEW POKER ORDINANCE IS A THORN IN THEIR FLESH.

A Test Case Will Probably Be Taken Before the Supreme Court on a Writ of Habeas Corpus—Clubs to Suspend Temporarily.

The effects of the anti-gambling ordinance which Mayor Snyder, for political reasons, so carefully refrained from signing, are beginning to manifest themselves. The gamblers, while appreciating their friend Snyder's efforts to protect them, feel greatly put out by the new ordinance. They realize that the Mayor's veto would not have prevented its passage over his head, so they do not blame him for letting it become a law without his signature. Against a unanimous Council a veto would have counted for naught. Had the Mayor signed it, the gambling fraternity might have had reason to doubt the Mayor's fidelity to their interests. By withholding his signature, they argue, he showed that, like Poker Davis, he is doing the best he can to protect them and incidentally his own interests.

But notwithstanding the Mayor's expressed opinion that the new ordinance could not be enforced, the gamblers find it a very uncomfortable thing to go up against. They are very anxious to have it tested and knocked out by a court decision. For this purpose a delegation waited upon the Chief of Police Monday afternoon and suggested the willingness of the poker-room men to make a test case. They offered to surrender one of their number with all the evidence necessary to prove that he was operating contrary to the new ordinance, provided the rest would be permitted to keep on doing business at the old stand until the Supreme Court handed down a decision as to the validity of the ordinance.

To this offer the Chief refused consent. He said his men would bring in violators of the law as fast as they could find them, and that they could have as many test cases as they wanted to, but until the Supreme Court decided that the ordinance was invalid no poker game with "kitties" or other unlawful devices attached should be allowed to run. Even while the Chief was making this address three pairs of his officers were out looking for violators of the anti-poker ordinance. The gamblers evidently had got wind of the intended raid, for not one game was running except at the Arizona Club rooms on Main street. The "kitty" was being worked at this particular joint for the express purpose of giving the police a chance to make a test case.

A. B. Smith and J. P. Wilson, the men who were arrested in the Arizona Club rooms for conducting an unlawful game, were arraigned before Justice Owens yesterday, but they were not ready to plead. At the request of their attorney, W. A. Shinn, the case was continued for one week. In order to give the poker men time to make out their line of defense. The Supreme Court is in session here now, and it appears to be the purpose of the poker men to get the case before the body on a writ of habeas corpus. Their hope of obtaining a favorable decision is very strong, because the Supreme Court, which is said to have granted a writ of habeas corpus to some of its personnel, some time ago rendered a decision declaring that poker was a game of science and not of chance. Pending the settlement of the case of Smith and Wilson in the courts, Chief Glass has received assurances that the club rooms will refrain from doing business. While this is their declared purpose, it is the avowed intention of the Chief to keep a close watch on them just the same, and if any attempts are made to conduct percentage games, under any guise whatever, there will be plenty of work for the courts to do in establishing the guilt or innocence of persons arrested for alleged violation of the ordinance which the shifty Mayor would neither sign nor veto.

DETECTIVES BLUNDERED.

Complaint Against McKay Dismissed and a New One Filed.

The petty larceny complaint against D. McKay was dismissed yesterday by Justice Morrison, on motion of Deputy District Attorney Chambers, but an amended complaint charging McKay with the same offense was immediately filed in Justice Owens' court. This action was taken because a defect was discovered in the original complaint that rendered it nugatory.

McKay is the man who was arrested by the police detectives some time ago on suspicion of stealing building materials from a house in course of erection on the Siberian methods of the detective department. When a complaint was finally filed against him it was defective in that it alleged that Hastings was the owner of the property of M. Hastings. After taking several weeks to investigate the matter, the detectives discovered that Hastings was only a hired contractor and did not own the lumber that was being used in the construction of the house from which the alleged theft took place. It became necessary, therefore, to file a new complaint in which S. K. Lindley is named as the owner of the property. If no further blunders are discovered the case against McKay may come to trial some time before Christmas.

BROKE HER ARM.

Serious Battery Charge Against James Feely.

James Feely has a very ugly charge of battery to make answer to in Justice Owens' court. He pleaded not guilty to it upon arraignment yesterday, and had his hearing set for October 20 at 9:30 a.m. So serious is the offense he is charged with that $175 cash bail has been deemed little enough to assure his presence before the bar of justice when wanted. The complaint alleges that Feely committed battery upon the person of Kitty Howard, a young woman who lives at No. 120 North Main street. What the trouble between Feely and the woman was remains to be revealed by the court proceedings. In the mean time Dr. Karl Kurtz is endeavoring to mend a broken arm for Kitty, who charges Feely with being responsible for the fracture. The fracas occurred Monday night. Deputy Constable Quinn arrested Feely about midnight, and Miss Howard filed a battery complaint against him yesterday.

Alger--ian Victims

The Seventh Regiment boys are coming home Friday. They have suffered Algerism at the hands of their country. It has not been their fault that they have not seen active service. One of the boys who used to work for us writes that "he has been with his regiment every day and nearly every night, hasn't been sick, hasn't thrown up a thing since he threw up his job. He says Uncle Sam does not furnish the boys with nearly as good underwear as we sell for small prices. He says our 50c goods are away ahead of anything he has come in contact with since leaving home. He says he has done a little missionary work for us in the way of telling the boys where to save money in underwear, shirts, hats and socks when they get home." If you want to see any of your friends among the boys you can most likely meet him here Saturday.

AN EXHIBIT FROM FRANCE.

Sometimes it is hard to make a statement of facts that does not seem boastful.

We must only hint at the situation concerning some Novelty Dress Patterns from Lyons.

A gentleman who recently visited the larger Eastern cities said yesterday: "I doubt if there are more than half a dozen stores in America showing so fine a line of really exclusive and choice styles in these materials."

From $25 to $50 there are thirty-five choice and exclusive designs in Dress Patterns direct from Lyons, France. Most of them are three-fourths silk to one-fourth wool. Colorings are serpent, royal, cerise, old blue, violet and cardinal blended in richly quiet ways with black. It may be of interest to note in passing that some of the designers of these goods are men whose names are famous in the art centers of the old world.

From $25 down to $10 there is almost an unlimited choice—one pattern of a style. All new and fresh and beautiful, and not to be found elsewhere.

The Republican City Convention has completed its work, and the ticket which will be submitted to the voters of the city will deserve their confidence and hearty support. The convention was remarkably free from anything like boss domination, and all efforts at scheming or slate-making proved fatal failures.

The nominations for Mayor and street Superintendent were made on the first day of the convention. Fred Eaton and John Drain being the respective nominees. The remaining places on the city ticket were filled yesterday.

The hardest fight was on the nomination of City Auditor. With six candidates in the field, three ballots were necessary to reach a choice. E. A. Carson finally won out, Leonard Merrill being a close second. The result was few words: J. W. Long spoke in behalf of the nomination of Sherman Smith, and Col. John Brooker spoke for John W. Francis. George P. Adams, in nominating Ben E. Ward, the successful candidate, said in part:

"I desire to present to your notice for the office of Assessor a man who is 40 years old and who has been in the real estate business in this city for the past seventeen years. A man who is qualified for the office which he seeks at your hand by a perfect and minute knowledge of the land of this city and of its environs; a man who, by reason of his association with the city, knows the location of lots; a man of whom it can truly be said he is familiar with the duties of an assessor's office. In 1884, when this county had a Democratic majority of 2800 votes, the man of whom I speak ran against Charles Miles for the office of County Recorder. While he did not win, he reduced the Democratic majority to only 13 votes. That campaign defeated the Democratic party, and it has never carried the county since. The Democratic party is sometimes represented as a jackass, and they themselves admit that the jackass is a pack animal. Ben Ward's campaign in 1884 broke the animal's back in this county, and while it isn't dead yet, it has been dragging its hind quarters around ever since. Ben Ward was never a candidate before, and has never been since that time, although always active in party work, and now, if there is any such thing as common honesty in politics, and a reward for the faithful, I appeal for that honesty and reward to the voters of this city to elect Ben E. Ward."

The nomination of Mr. Ward was unanimously endorsed, and the balloting followed. The first ballot resulted as follows:

Ward ..... 168
Smith ..... 136
Willard ..... 66
Francis ..... 25
Total vote ..... 398
Necessary to a choice, 199.
Mr. Ward was nominated on the second ballot, by the following vote, Mr. Francis having dropped out:

Ward ..... 224
Smith ..... 153
Willard ..... 22
Francis ..... 4
Total vote ..... 403
Necessary to a choice, 202.
On motion, Mr. Ward's nomination was made unanimous. The usual cheering and hurrahing greeted the successful candidate's presentation on the platform.

best element in his ward. The other nominees for the Council are new men, but among them are several well-known citizens of high standing. The character of the nominees for the Board of Education is especially worthy of comment. All of them are of excellent reputation, and with such a board there would be no fear of the scandals that have disgraced previous administrations. C. C. Davis, who did so much to expose the rascality of Walter Wilson, was renominated from the Fourth Ward.

William J. Variel, the chairman of the convention, proved an excellent presiding officer. His efforts were treated with fairness, and it was largely through his efforts that the business of the convention was accomplished with so much dispatch. The delegates, before adjourning, testified their appreciation of his services as chairman by an enthusiastic vote of thanks and three rousing cheers.

A new City Central Committee was appointed, consisting of one member from each precinct. The committee will meet soon to elect officers and plan the campaign.

THE MORNING SESSION.

Ben Ward Nominated for Assessor and Hartwell for Treasurer.

The second day's session of the Republican City Convention was called to order by Chairman Variel a few minutes after the time set. As soon as the attention of the delegates was secured, regular business was taken up, and entered upon with much spirit. The delegates looked wide-awake, and they had evidently secured plenty of sleep, despite the fight that was still open for the nominations that were yet to be made.

The chairman urged them to expedite the order of business, so that the convention might adjourn sine die in the evening.

Upon motion it was declared that the first order of business was to receive nominations for the office of Assessor.

Maj. C. W. Fairbanks presented the name of George P. Adams, a highly educated and eloquent speaker. W. A. Penney nominated Capt. Cyrus Willard in a

THE AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Ticket Completed—Hot Fight Over the Auditorship.

The gavel struck promptly at 1:30 o'clock for the afternoon session, accompanied by a caution from the chairman not to blame him if the convention should be prolonged beyond the day, some of the delegates showing a disposition not to get down to business immediately. Before this little speech was through with much spirit, the delegates looked wide-awake, and they had evidently secured plenty of sleep, despite the fight that was still open for the nominations that were yet to be made.

Upon motion, nominations for City Auditor were declared in order.

In nominating George M. Holton for the office of City Attorney, J. L. Copeland said:

"Since the beginning of civilization, down to the present time, the law has been the most important department of government, because law is government. We are now about to ballot for the most important office within the city government. It is necessary that the man we select shall be a man of knowledge, of experience, of honor and of integrity, one who will stand by the law, and administer the law as laid down by legislative bodies."

T. W. Brotherton, in nominating Frank J. Thomas, said that never in the history of Los Angeles was a more important step about to be taken by a convention than was to be taken by this convention in the nomination of a candidate for City Attorney. The great city water works question is still at issue, and not every candidate knows its details or has an accurate knowledge of what is involved. He urged the convention to nominate a man who would look out for this important matter. He said he would not take any man who for four years had been familiar with that famous litigation, who had read all the complaints and demurrers filed in connection with it, a man who knew the subject and would attend to it with discretion. He cautioned the delegates not to "swap horses in crossing a stream," but in selecting a candidate to be City Attorney to secure one whose capabilities for the office are known.

L. C. Gates, in placing in nomination the successful candidate for the office, Walter F. Haas, addressed the convention in part as follows:

"There is no sentiment that reaches my heart more quickly than the sentiment in favor of a great character. The next sentiment that reaches me quickly is the sentiment in favor of a successful man. My candidate came to this city in 1884, when he entered the high schools here and completed his education. For four years he pursued his studies at night, while working by day, and in that manner got all the education Los Angeles could give him. In 1888, my candidate got a law license. He now enjoys a lucrative and large practice, acquired by his merit. Like Abraham Lincoln, he worked while he studied, and like the lamented late President Garfield, he fought his way to public recognition from an humble beginning. He is no young man in Los Angeles with his experience that is his equal, and I wish to make no invidious comparison with other young men. Give the nomination to this young man, and you will carry out the good work of the other Republican nominees."

Will A. Harris, in presenting the name of Judge Louis Gottschalk, said he was the bearer of good cheer to the convention and to Los Angeles generally. Henry T. Gage, he said, would be elected Governor. R. J. Waters, Congressman-elect, was a nomination of that great Republican, Maj. William McKinley, would be endorsed. In continuing, he said that it was his pleasure to present the name of a man with a stainless record, who joined the northern army in '61, and fought so long as his country needed him; who was made City Attorney of St. Louis shortly after the war, was later a circuit judge, and still later a justice of the peace. He promised them that he would be elected by a larger majority than last time, in which case they would find him doing business at the old stand. Upon motion his nomination was later made unanimous.

An adjournment was then taken to

HARTWELL FOR TREASURER.

The business of nominating a Treasurer was next taken up.

"I come before you in the interest of a man who has lived with you for thirty-five years," said Mr. L. Horton, in nominating Herman C. Lichtenberger. "He is well known to you, and needs no introduction. He has been in business here successfully. He is a good accountant, and if elected will make a good treasurer as you have ever had. He has been a good Republican and has never held office before. He now comes before you for the office of Treasurer. Mr. Hartwell has been a good friend of mine, but he is not better than my man."

Judge H. C. Gooding, in renominating William A. Hartwell for the office of City Treasurer, said that he had done the past four years as Treasurer of the growing city of Los Angeles, and urged that the delegates take no risks in the matter of this very important office, and elect a man of whom they were already known.

Mr. Hartwell won on the first ballot; the vote being as follows:

Hartwell ..... 178 1/2
Lichtenberger ..... 23 1/2
Total vote ..... 202

Necessary to a choice, 101.

Mr. Hartwell thanked the delegates for their kindness, and assured them of his appreciation. He promised them that he would be elected by a larger majority than last time, in which case they would find him doing business at the old stand. Upon motion his nomination was later made unanimous.

An adjournment was then taken to Merrill, whom he nominated, had read himself out of the Democratic, and had lost his lot with the Republican party, and that he had voted for McKinley, and was now a thorough Republican. He closed his appeal by asserting that a microscope could not disclose a dishonest hair in Mr. Merrill's head.

Frank F. Davis secured the exclusive attention of the convention by a brief address, marked by consummate delivery and eloquent language. He nominated Ed Carson, saying:

"Fifty years ago the banners of Mexico went down before the eagles of the republic. Fifty years ago we entered into the princely domain, California. Fifty years ago, fresh from a battlefield, where he had fought for his country, came George Carson, upon this far-away borderland he made his home, building a crude cottage for himself. In this ranch home was born to him a son, Ed Carson, 20 years ago. Surrounded by wealth, but not spoiled by an affluent early life, he left his home at 20, and fought the battle of bread independently. He is clean, young, energetic and brainy. He has a kind hand and kind heart—the hand that makes a man a good officer. Make him your candidate and you will get 2000 votes that you would not otherwise get."

C. Davis presented to the notice of the convention the name of E. G. Wood, in words brief and to the point. D. Morrison nominated A. B. Dessory in a few words, saying that his choice was well known to the business community, that he was upright, honest and able, and that he had served in the Philippines under Gen. Merritt.

With this the nominations for the office of Auditor closed, and balloting began. Three ballots were cast to decide Ed A. Carson's victory. The first was as follows:

Shearer ..... 48
Merrill ..... 116
Carson ..... 208
Wood ..... 29
Dessory ..... 65
Allen ..... 41
Total vote ..... 412

Necessary to a choice, 206.

The second ballot resulted as follows:

Gottschalk ..... 12
Thomas ..... 190
Haas ..... 204
Total vote ..... 406

Necessary to a choice, 203.

A motion was made to make the nomination of Walter F. Haas unanimous. Ayes and nays were called for by the chairman, and when it came to nays two or three delegates expressed their opposition and quite loudly.

Frank Thomas quickly stepped forward and begged the attention of the convention, to hope his friends will vote, "to make this unanimous."

The motion was again put and resulted in the nomination of Mr. Haas by unanimous vote.

Mr. Thomas then spoke again. He said: "I am not a delegate on this floor. I take my defeat gracefully and assure you all that I will support the successful nominee. Prolonged cheer followed, as Mr. Thomas stepped outside of the gate."

Mr. Haas took the platform, and when the hurrying had subsided, he said: "I would indeed be lacking in ordinary gratitude did I not thank you for your kind respect in me in nominating me. I am not a delegate on this floor. I take my defeat gracefully and assure you all that I will support the successful nominee. Prolonged cheer followed, as Mr. Thomas stepped outside of the gate."

OLMSTEAD FOR ENGINEER.

Nominations for City Engineer were made the next order of business. Col. M. Mudge spoke briefly for Harry Stafford for Surveyor. He served two terms in this capacity, and the speaker hoped the delegates would or not his candidate had done his duty. The First Ward had nothing as yet, the speaker urged the delegates to vote and demand the appointment of Mr. Stafford. He urged the delegates to vote and demand the appointment of Mr. Stafford. He urged the delegates to vote and demand the appointment of Mr. Stafford.

Frank Dominguez, who nominated the lucky candidate, Frank H. Olmstead, stated that the nomination of City Engineer is not a matter of sentiment; it is a matter of business. Ability is the essential requisite to the proper conduct of the office. I present to you a man who is secretary of the Engineer and Architectural Association, whose statement has the same significance as saying that he knows his vocation. You have acted wisely in your nominations. I have acted wisely in my nomination. I have acted wisely in my nomination. I have acted wisely in my nomination.

The nominations for the office were declared closed. The balloting resulted as follows:

Sixth race, running, one-half mile handicap: Pauline Mosher, (102) Miss Mattie, (102) Loe Medina, (110) Inola, (102) and Talvez, (102) and Ellen Wood, (107) couples, (entry of the Wood stable).

If a large attendance makes a successful day's racing, ladies' day yesterday was the most successful of any day thus far during the present meeting. This year the day set apart for the ladies was not to give the members of the gentler sex free entrance into the park and then to make money off their presence by charging them admission into the grand stand, as has sometimes been done on different kinds of events there, but instead the entire park was thrown open to them, free of charge and they were at liberty to come and go when and where they pleased. They were made welcome in there was a scramble by a number of knowing ones to place their money on the little mare. So much of it was placed that the odds were backed down to 5 to 1 at the closing. Beechwood stood at about 12 to 1 throughout. It was supposed that the heat, and the race in fact, lay between Little Thorn and You Bet. The latter is a hard animal to start, and the horses scored a number of times before they were sent away. When they got off Little Thorn was leading, with You Bet a close second. Floracita was third, close to Beechwood. The same relative position was maintained by the horses until the three-quarter pole was reached, when it was seen that Floracita was rapidly moving up. She was on the outside, but she rounded the others at a rate which placed her in the lead within fifty yards of the wire. You Bet and Little Thorn had been racing each other and little attention had been paid to the mare until too late. Bunch and Thompson began using their whips in the stretch but to no purpose, their horses could not get up any such burst of speed as was necessary for them to win and Floracita went under the wire half a length ahead of You Bet, leaving Little Thorn in third place half a length behind. Beechwood barely saved his distance.

Floracita's victory in the first heat made a decided change in the subsequent betting. She went on the boards at 6 to 5, and this was soon changed to even money. You Bet started in the betting at 8 to 1, but was also backed down to even. Opening at even money Little Thorn lost favor with the crowd and closed at 4 to 1. Beechwood was 6 to 1. Floracita got a slight early in the day when the riders for the race were selected. Baldwin, the owner of La Goleta, wanted Butler to ride that animal, but to this the owners of Moringa and Marplot would not consent. Tom Boyle, the owner of Moringa, wanted Butler also, and Burns & Waterhouse would have been willing to have had him on their Marplot. They could not agree, and as the Baldwin stable seemed to have the call on the much-wanted rider's services, the others found means of making it impossible for him to ride. It seems that some time ago Butler was suspended up north, but was reinstated with the understanding that he was to ride only for the Lannigan stable. Lannigan's trainer has been using him outside more or less, and nothing was said of it. In yesterday's event, however, the terms of Butler's reinstatement were enforced by the owners of the odds laid against the horse could not, therefore, ride for Baldwin. Baldwin at once withdrew La Goleta from the race, leaving only Moringa and Marplot to start.

The scratching of La Goleta had a dampening effect upon the enthusiasm over this race, and probably prevented its becoming more of a sensational dash than it was. When the board went up it was seen that Devin was to ride Moringa, and Marplot was to make the run with Hock up. With only two horses in the race, both admittedly so nearly equal in ability to run and run fast, there was not a sufficient element of chance in it to induce a rush to the books. The fluctuations of the odds laid against the horses were like those of important stocks on a busy day. A slight rush of Moringa money changed his figures to 4 to 5. Then they went 9 to 10, then 11 to 10, 4 to 5, and closed at 4 to 5. The figures on Marplot changed as frequently, for after opening at 4 to 5, as stated, the fluctuations were 9 to 10, 7 to 10, 3 to 5, 2 to 3, back again to 7 to 10, and closed as had the others, at 4 to 5.

The start was, of course, directly in front of the grand stand, and there was no delay about it. In less than a minute after Starter Caldwell had taken his position and fired, the horses were off. Moringa leading by half a length, Devin seemed to remember his experience in the mile and a half race, in which he was pitted against Hennessy on Grady for he clung to the pole and kept his mount going at terrific speed. There was no change in the relative positions of the horses throughout the race, but at all times they were so close together that the excitement was never lessened. Hock made every effort to close the short gap by which Moringa was leading Marplot, but without success, for Devin kept just far enough to keep the lead, and finally to win by a length.

It was a wonderful run in several respects, as will be seen by a statement of the time for the intermediate distances. The first quarter was made in 24 seconds, and the half in the sensational time of 0.47. Had it been possible for the horse to have mainers finished the card for the day. William O. B. was favorite in the books at 3 to 2. Tom Smith stood at 2 to 1, and Reina de Los Angeles at 5 to 2. Reina de Los Angeles led from the flag to beyond the half with William O. B. and Tom Smith close up. In the last quarter William O. B. passed the leader and beat the Baldwin horse by a length with Tom Smith in third place half a length behind Reina de Los Angeles.

SUMMARIES.
First race, pacing, 212 class, purse $1000. Floracita, b.m., Red Oak May Boy, R. Garney, owner and driver, 1 1 1 Little Thorn, b.m., by Hawthorne, J. Thompson, owner and driver, 3 3 2 Beechwood, b.m., by Silkwood, John Baker, owner and driver, 4 2 3 You Bet, b.m., by Imp. Rosington, H. Edelman (C. F. Bunch), 2 4 4 Time, 2:12 1/4, 2:14, 2:11 1/2.
Second race, running, Agricultural Park stakes, seven-eighths of a mile: Losette, b.f., 3, Midlothian-Cozette, 114, (Piggott) 1 to 2, won easily by three lengths; Artesia, c.h.f., 3, by Imp. Cuveth, 114, (Bullman) 5 to 1, second; Rey el Rio, b.c., by Rey el Santa Anita 94, (Devlin) 2 to 1, third; time, 1:29 1/2. Edwanda 3 also ran.
Third race, running, special, one mile: Moringa, b.g., 3, by Sobranie, 90, (Devlin) even, won by a length; Marplot, b.c., 3, by Imp. Rosington, 90, (Hock) 4 to 5, second; time, 1:39 1/4.
Fourth race, running, selling, six furlongs, purse $200: William O. B., b.h., Apache-Flora, 114, 2 to 2, won by two lengths; Reina de Los Angeles, b.f., 3, by Emp. Norpik, 99, 5 to 2, second; Tom Smith, b.f., 4, by Clarendon, 111, 2 to 1, third; time, 1:35. Masero also ran.

TODAY'S MATCH RACE.
A feature of today's card is a match trotting race between Toggles and Monterey. The rivalry between these horses has been intense all over the circuit where they have appeared, and a match race between them has been arranged. Each owner puts up $250 and the association offers an additional $250, all of which goes to the winner. The race will be for the best two heats in three instead of three in five.

There will also be a welter-weight race today in which the minimum weight will be 134 pounds. Grady appears again this afternoon in a seven-eighths-of-a-mile handicap. He will carry 118 pounds. The race will probably be between him and La Goleta.

CAPT. STEERE'S BAND
Needs More Money, but is an Assured Fact.
Capt. Steere of Battery D, Heavy Artillery, and Secretary Zeehandelaar of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, donated their war paint yesterday and started on a hunt for public-spirited citizens, who would be willing to provide funds with which to purchase instruments and music for a band to accompany the battery to Manila. Their visit had been anticipated by several of the people, and they met with a hearty response. The battalion is expected to sail for Manila in the early part of next week, on the transport Senator, and may not return to the land of sunshine and palm trees for some time.

Capt. Steere states that he has musicians in his battery who will make a very strong band. The people of San Francisco have promised to contribute $200 toward the purchase of the instruments, and it is expected that a similar amount will be raised here. The following is a list of the donations secured yesterday:

Ferd. K. Rule	$25.00
Bartlett Bros.	15.00
C. E. Thom	10.00
A. Farming and Milling Co.	10.00
Farmers and Merchants Bank	10.00
Los Angeles Savings Bank	10.00
First National Bank	10.00
W. H. Perry	10.00
Simon Mator	5.00
Los Angeles Furniture Company	5.00
J. M. Glass	5.00
Total	$125.00

Public-spirited citizens who desire to contribute are requested to leave their subscriptions today at the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association rooms, in the Laughlin building.

Last night Capt. Steere received a telegram from Camp Merriam intimating that all furloughed men had been recalled, and that the battery will sail next Sunday. As a result of this communication Capt. Steere will leave for San Francisco tonight.

HE HURT FINLEY.

Reckless Driver Arraigned on the Charge of Battery.
The identity of the man who drove over W. J. Finley several days ago and nearly killed him has been discovered. His name is Pascal Searno. He is a fruit peddler living on Smith street. Finley was riding a bicycle on North Main street when Searno ran him down with his team and drove away without heeding to what damage he had done. Finley was so badly injured that he had to be taken to the Receiving Hospital and afterwards to the County Hospital. He is still in a precarious condition. It required some detective work to ferret out the fellow who injured Finley. He was arrested yesterday and arraigned in the Police Court on a charge of battery. The case was continued till October 13 at 2 o'clock to plead. Meanwhile Searno is at liberty on $500 cash bail.

Lieutenant Mackenzie's Badge.
Second Lieutenant A. E. Mackenzie of Battery D, First Battalion Heavy Artillery, was compelled to resign in September by the serious illness of his wife and his discharge arrived a day or two ago. The enlisted men of his company testified their regard for him by presenting to him a handsome gold badge, suitably inscribed. Lieut. Mackenzie has returned to Los Angeles. Capt. Lucy of the Sixth California has been appointed to fill the vacancy in Battery D.

STARTING FOR THE RACE. THE OWNERS' LAST WORD TO THE DRIVER.

the paddock, the betting ring, is they wanted to go to the race and to the grand stand and to any of the seats in the stand itself except those in the private boxes. The fact that yesterday was to be ladies day had not been extensively advertised. Had it been the park would have had the appearance of a woman's race meet, for in spite of the fact that the announcement was only made yesterday morning at least 2500 ladies passed through the turnstiles. They began coming early and many a man who would not otherwise have visited the park this meeting came with them and paid their price of admission. Long before the first bell sounded the grand stand was well filled, and by the time the first race had been decided it was crowded. The guests of the association were coming and going all afternoon. Of course most of the ladies sat quietly in their places and watched the races, but there were among them a sufficient number who desired to back their or that horse "just to make it interesting" to keep the uniformed messengers, employed to place their bets, on the jump all afternoon. They frequently won too, and when a winning was made it was not difficult to tell who had made it.

The attendance of men was larger than it had been the day before. They made a betting crowd and the books did a good business, better in proportion to the size of the crowd than on any previous day of the meeting. A pacing race and four running events constituted the card, and in the main the sport was good. There were, of course, some very commonplace races but these were more than made up for in the sensational events of one or two of the races.

THE 2:12 PACE.
The first heat of the first race, the 2:12 pace, was productive of a surprise which caused some of the book-makers to be hit hard. In this race there were four entries, of whom, in the first heat Little Thorn was favorite at 7 to 10. You Bet had many friends at 6 to 5, so many that 4 to 5 was the closing odds on him. Floracita opened in the betting at 15 to 1, and almost instantly advantage at the start and retained it throughout the heat; she was never headed and won easily by two lengths from Beechwood who was an equal distance behind her. You Bet went off his feet at the quarter and was unable to regain the ground he lost.

Thorn opened as favorite in the betting on the third heat, in spite of the fact that he had not finished better than third in either of the previous heats; 3 to 5 were his figures and the field was offered at even money against him, and was taken by many to their profit. You Bet stood 5 to 1 and Floracita at 6 to 5. Beechwood would have paid 6 to 1 had he won the heat. The heat was very similar to the preceding one in the positions of the horses throughout. Floracita was never in danger. Little Thorn succeeded in taking the place from Beechwood, and You Bet finished last.

AGRICULTURAL PARK STAKE.
The second race of the day was a sweepstake for maidens of all ages, the distance being seven-eighths of a mile. There had been a large number of entries but only four of them started. Of them Losette was an odds-on favorite, opening at 1 to 2 and closing at 1 to 3. Artesia at 10 to 1 caught lots of money and was well played even at 5 to 3, later Edwanda, a last year's winner as a two-year-old, stood at 40 to 1, and the Baldwin entry, Rey el Rio, at 2 to 1. The favorite had too much the best of it to make the event of unusual interest. She got off the mark first, and remained there, finishing first under a pull, three lengths ahead of Artesia, who was six lengths ahead of Rey el Rio.

THE COAST RECORD STANDS.
The attempt to establish for the Los Angeles track a new Coast record for the mile, a race of which the association expected much, and which had been announced as one of the most important runs of the meeting, was the third event on the card. There had been three entries announced the night before, but early yesterday La Goleta was withdrawn from the race, much to the disappointment of those interested in the event. There were several reasons for scratching this entry, the principal one being trouble which arose tained the same speed for the second half, the mile would have been covered in 1:34 1/2, but that, of course, was not possible. The slackening of speed in the last half shows how their furious pace told on them. The third quarter was made in 25 1/2, the leader reaching the three-quarter pole in 1:14. This was a falling off of more than three seconds in that quarter of a mile, for the second quarter had been made in 23 1/2. The last quarter was covered in 25 1/2. By simple addition of the time made in these quarters it will be seen that while the first half was made in 47 1/2, a 1:34 1/2 gait, the second half was made in 52 1/2, or a 1:45 gait. Had the pace during the first half not been so furious so that some strength could be reserved for a final effort in the last half, more than one record would almost certainly have been broken. For example, the first half in, say 48 1/2, and the second in 50, would have made the mile in 1:38 1/2, which would have been a quarter of a second under the world's record of 1:39 1/2, held by Libertine and made on the Washington Park track, about four years ago.

As it was no record was broken, except the Los Angeles track record of 1:40, made a few days ago by Moringa, when he beat out La Goleta. The Pacific Coast record is held by Victor, at 1:39 1/2, just a quarter of a second faster than yesterday's performance. It was the world's record for the mile on a circuit track. At Oakland Saturday ran a mile in 1:39 1/2, which is exactly the time made yesterday.

LADY ASHLEY'S EASY VICTORY.
A selling race of six furlongs was the fourth event of the day, and in it there were five starters. Lady Ashley had slightly the best of it in the betting, being placed at 6 to 5. Obsidian was a close second in public favor, at 8 to 5. The opinion of the talent was vindicated in this race for Lady Ashley, gaining the lead at the start, held it throughout, and finished an easy winner by one and one-half lengths from Queen Nubia, with Obsidian third.

THE LAST RACE.
A dash of seven and one-half furlongs in which there were four start-

"AGITATION MEETING"

Included in the Chicago Peace Jubilee Programme.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Agitation for international arbitration will be a part of the peace jubilee programme in this city next week.

After joining with members of a sub-committee appointed at the recent Syracuse convention in behalf of settling international questions without resort to arms, promoters of the celebration have decided to hold an "agitation meeting" next Monday afternoon.

John W. Eila, R. M. Easley, Edwin Burritt Smith and W. A. Giles have conferred with the Thanksgiving Service Committee, and urged upon that organization the importance of bringing the arbitration idea before the people more fully.

The committee heartily approved the suggestion to hold a meeting during jubilee week, and to make it as pretentious as time and resources will permit.

ROMANTIC SUICIDE. Chicago Policeman Shoots Himself Beside His Wife's Grave.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Policeman Axel Mikelson was found dead on the grave of his wife in Mount Hope Cemetery. Mikelson was dressed in full uniform.

A bullet wound in the temple and a revolver beside the corpse told the story of the suicide. Mikelson's wife died five months ago, and he has visited her grave daily. When he failed to answer at roll-call, a detail of police officers went to the cemetery and found his body.

HAT TRICKS.

The old hat trick of putting a name in $3 worth of hat and selling it for $5, is dead.

The old trick of every little dealer in town claiming to have the very best hat sold for a given amount of money explodes of its own force—they can't all have "the best."

Our hat store is only one incident of a large business. We sell hats as leaders to advertise the rest of the store, consequently almost no profits are asked.

See our $1.00, $1.50, $2.00 and $3.00 fall styles.
